Detailed description: This is a close-up of a car's AM/FM stereo receiver. The unit is black with a silver-colored metal trim on the left and right sides. The top row of controls includes an 'AM/FM' mode selector, a 'DISP' (display) button, and six preset buttons numbered 1 through 6. Above the preset buttons is a 'PRESET' label with a double-headed arrow. Below the preset buttons are two buttons for 'TUNING/TIME' control, labeled 'DOWN' (with a downward-pointing chevron) and 'UP' (with an upward-pointing chevron). To the right of these is a 'SOUND' button, which is a circular knob. Further right is a 'VOLUME' control consisting of two triangular buttons, one with a minus sign and one with a plus sign. At the bottom right is a circular 'ON / OFF' power button. The central digital display is a green LCD showing the number '90.8'. The text 'AM/FM STEREO RECEIVER' is printed at the bottom of the unit's faceplate.
